

Training: Business development MSc

The interview focuses on the candidate's motivation, subject knowledge and practical skills, with particular attention paid to:

- Entrepreneurial approach, problem sensitivity;
- Expressive skills, presentation and argumentative skills;
- Creativity;
- Social and societal sensitivity;
- Commitment to continuous improvement;
- Ability to collaborate and delegate;
- Need to improve professional skills;
- Need to develop entrepreneurial skills;
- Basic economic knowledges;
- Management knowledges;
- Professionalism, professional knowledge;
- Daily economic policy briefing;
- Problem recognition, problem solving skills;
- Professional experience relevant to your previous qualifications;
- Work experience as an employee or student.

We will review your professional interests, the professional knowledge you have acquired, your future plans, and your plans after completing your chosen MSc. The committee also examines the candidate's attitude. Find out about their commitment to entrepreneurship, their desire to develop ongoing cooperation and interpersonal skills.

02. January 2026, Budapest,

Dr. habil. János Varga
vice-dean for education